- The second ever Relais & Châteaux hotel now part of 580 landmark hotels and restaurants
- Located on the edge of the New Forest in Hampshire on 130 picturesque acres of woodland, gardens, and parkland – also a short walk from the beach and sea at Highcliffe-on-Sea.
- Chewton Glen’s signature Treehouse Suites were opened in 2012 by Olympian Ben Ainsley and are the first of their kind in the UK. Complete with wrap-around balconies, floor to ceiling windows, hot tubs and log burners, guests receive breakfast hampers delivered silently by buggy each morning through a secret hatch.
- The largest and most secluded Treehouse “The Yews” sleeps up to 12 guests.
- Eco-treehouse home to the Beehive kids club. The treehouse is built almost entirely of timber – the world’s most sustainable resource. It is carbon neutral, highly weather resistant and the wood smells amazing!
- Colonel George Marryat purchased Chewton Glen in the 1800’s and his younger brother Captain Frederick Marryat used his visits to write the famous children’s novel ‘The Children of the New Forest’. Many of the rooms in the hotel today are named after Captain Frederick Marryat’s novel and characters.
- The stream that flows through the grounds of Chewton Glen was once popular with smugglers taking their contraband into the New Forest. The border between Dorset and Hampshire also follows the path of the stream. The stream is also the county border between Dorset and Hampshire – so you can sleep in Hampshire and play tennis in Dorset.
- In 1990 Chewton Glen opened the Chewton Glen Spa, the first of its kind in the UK with the UK’s largest hydrotherapy spa pool, 17-metre swimming pool, outdoor whirlpool, cold drench showers, state-of-the-art gymnasium, dance studio with daily programme of classes, 9-hole par-3 golf course, indoor and outdoor tennis centre and acres of woodland jogging and walking trails. The property currently has a partnership with Monpure London, the world’s first dedicated scalp and hair health brand.
- The award-winning Dining Room restaurant is a nexus of beautiful conservatories and intimate dining spaces. The connecting wine room has the largest number of wines from the UK on its wine list.
- The Kitchen cookery school offers casual dining and learning about food with James Martin and his brigade of talented Chefs. Classes include “A Taste of Hampshire” and “Curries of The World”. All ages are welcome (6+).

- Chewton Glen's 70 beehives are home to five million bees who produce honey for the hotel. The bonus is they pollinate the beautiful wildflowers surrounding the house. Guests can buy honey in the boutique, alongside homemade chutneys, jams, and jellies made by resident forager Jennifer Williams.
- The Orchard is home to over 200 heritage fruit trees and the grounds have over 158 varieties of trees. All grounds operations are led by Estate Manager Darren Venables, who has been with the hotel since 1989.
- Chewton is the ideal hotel for cruise fans, located nearby Southampton's dock (where the Titanic left!)
- The Chewton Glen Spa & Body Collection is inspired by the hotel's natural surroundings. The flavours of Sea Salt & Water Mint and Cedar & Wild Berry reflect the coastal and woodland location. The products are all natural, vegan, and free from artificial fragrances, colourants, silicones, parabens, and sulphates.
